Subject:—

Constitution of a General Muzrai Fund.

A 37 In their order No.2526-37/Muz.F.391-15-1 dated 2nd April 1917, Government directed that the available surpluses at the credit of the various Muzrai Institutions under Government management be, subject to certain specified limits, consolidated and formed into a fund called the "GENERAL MUZRAI FUND", and that the same be invested and the interest therefrom utilized for the benefit of Muzrai Institutions generally and also for other purposes not inconsistent with the object of the original endowments. The Muzrai Superintendent was requested to institute a careful enquiry into the existing conditions and future requirements of the contributory institutions and submit a detailed report with a view to enable Government to determine the actual amounts which can be made available for incorporation in the Fund.

38 2. The Muzrai Superintendent has now submitted an exhaustive report with detailed statements as the result of patient and careful investigation. Descriptive Memoranda bringing together all the salient points relating to each institution from which contribution is to be levied for the formation of the Fund, have also been submitted with individual recommendations. I have carefully gone over these, and except in a few cases I have found the Muzrai Superintendent's proposals for appropriation well considered and suitable and have consequently accepted them. The draft order prepared under my instructions and the statement appended to it exhibiting the results attained. This is nearly one lac less than the estimate originally made; but the estimated income therefrom will be somewhat more in proportion owing to the higher rates of interest now obtainable.

34 3. As regards the utilization of the income the Muzrai Superintendent recommends, in addition to the grant for special improvement of Muzrai Institutions and the cost of Engineering Establishment both of which were already sanctioned in the order of 2nd April 1917, the establishment of a few central schools for teaching the meaning and method of temple worship. This is a matter in the knowledge of which most of our Archaks are woefully deficient, and the suggestion is one that is well worthy of trial.

35 4. The proposed order is confined only to Hindu temples from which are excluded the Muzrai Institutions under Palace management. As regards these institutions, Government have already directed, in their Order No.243-45/Muz.420-17-5 dated 17th July 1918, that the surplus at their credit be kept separate and invested for their sole benefit.

36 5. The surpluses at the credit of Government charitable institutions have also been kept out of the scope of this order. The Muzrai Superintendent proposed a separate fund being formed on their account; but as a large proportion of the available surpluses at their credit are to be utilized for the purchase of a building at Benares to locate the Chattram at the place, the matter will be dropped for the present.

37 6. The connected papers together with the draft order are submitted for the gracious orders of His Highness.

Dated 17th July 1919.

NOTE. 28-3-19

SUBJECT:

Constitution of a GENERAL MUZRAI FUND out of the available surpluses at the credit of the Muzrai Institutions under Government management.

In their order No.2526-37/Muz. 391-15-1 dated 2nd April 1917, Government were pleased to direct that the available surplus funds at the credit of the various Muzrai Institutions under Government management, be, subject to certain limits, consolidated and formed into a GENERAL MUZRAI FUND to be invested and the interest therefrom utilized for the benefit of Muzrai Institutions generally and also for other purposes not inconsistent with the objects of the original endowments. It was further directed that in determining the proportion of the surpluses to be operated upon, the following considerations should be kept in view:--

(1) Where the institution needs repairs, the amount necessary therefor should be fully set apart and only the balance appropriated.

(2) A further sum ranging from Rs.2,000/- to Rs.4,000/- according to the needs and importance of the institution concerned should be reserved in each case for the future requirements of the institution.

(3) The funds of non-Hindu institutions should be kept and dealt with separately from the funds of the Hindu institutions.

2. Before, however, deciding upon the actual amounts that can be made available from the surpluses at the credit of the various institutions for incorporation in the Fund, Government considered it necessary that a careful enquiry should be made into their existing conditions and future requirements and I was directed to take up the work systematically and submit a detailed report on the subject within six months I entered upon the work soon after, but as I had at the same time to undertake a general revision of the scales of income and expenditure in all the Major and the more important Minor institutions, I took up both the work together and proceeded with them systematically. On this account and because of the delay in the joining of the Assistant Engineer deputed to help me in making forecast estimates of repairs, I have not been able to submit the report earlier.

3. The appended statements A and B give a complete list respectively of all Major and Minor Hindu Institutions which had at their credit on the 30th June 1918 a surplus exceeding Rs.2,000/-, the investments being taken at their face value. As regards non-Hindu institutions, Statement C deals with Mahommedan Institutions and Statement D with Jain institutions. In the case of these two classes, I have noted in the Statements the reasons why it is not deemed expedient to form a separate Fund of their own for the exclusive use of such institutions. I have kept out of the scope of the enquiry the institutions under the direct management of the Palace. These institutions are 11 in number and they had in their joint credit a sum of Rs.94,053-8-11 in cash at the end of June 1918. Sanction of Government to form a separate fund for the exclusive benefit of these institutions has been accorded in Order No.243-45/M.F.420-17-5 dated 17th July 1918.

4. The immediate requirements of every institution have been individually enquired into in detail and dealt with in a generous spirit. Not only have the repairs to buildings been provided for but allowances have been made for repairs to jewels, Vahanas, cars and other moveable properties of the institutions. Amounts which may be required for the completion of sanctioned works now under execution have also been set apart. I have personally visited a large majority of these institutions and in addition the Assistant Engineer has also studied the requirements of most if not all the institutions that have surpluses available for incorporation in the Fund. In the case of institutions which for want of time the Assistant Engineer has not been able to visit, I have adopted the rough idea of cost whic I had formed at the time of inspection as regards repairs and other requirements. These institutions are very few in number and my forecast may be taken as fairly correct. In the case of a few minor institutions I had to content myself with the estimate of cost formed by the Muzrai Sheristadars and concurred in by the Amildar. Judged by the amounts proposed for incorporation they are unimportant and may have been omitted but have been included with a view to give a completeness to the reportss

5. The Descriptive Memorandum (E) deals in greater detail with the institutions which are proposed to be made contributories to the Fund. Brief notes of salient facts bearing upon their financial position are given and the way in which the appropriation is proposed to be effected is also indicated with a view to orders being passed individually in each case. Repairs to buildings, other requirements, and reserve for future calls have been shown under separate columns and the balances after deducting these are also treated as available for incorporation in the Fund. As regards the last item, viz. the reserve for future calls, the Government Order under reference directs that a sum ranging between Rs.2,000/- and Rs.4,000/ should be set apart according to the needs and requirements of the individual institutions. A more liberal reserve in the case of a few special institutions which are contributing very liberal -ly to the Fund, has been proposed as a better margin of safety and to some extent also on sentimental grounds.

6. Statement F shows the net results of the proposals by districts. It will be seen that in all Rs.5,40,000/- will be available for incorporation in the Fund out of which Rs.4,17,317-3-4 as is shown in the margin represents old investments, taken at their face value and the balance Rs.1,22,682-12-8 cash on hand

Taking the securities at their present selling prices the value of the investments proposed to be taken over to the Fund will be only Rs.3,15,222/- and including the cash the present value of the Fund will be Rs.4,37,904/-. Assuming an average interest at 4% per annum on the cash available for fresh investment -this interest is the one allowed by Government on their own Loans and on sums permanently deposited with them- the interest earnings of the Fund will be Rs.19,895-14-6 as shown in the margin.

7. As regards the utilization of the amount Government have in their Order dated 2nd April 1917 directed the entertainment of an Engineering Establishment at an estimated cost of Rs.6,280/- for the inspection of the buildings and grounds belonging to the various important institutions and for drawing up estimates for repairs and improvements as also for scrutinizing the plans and estimates received from the Deputy Commissioners. In addition, the Government directed that a sum of Rs.10,000 be set apart for special improvements to Lazrai

Institutions by way of supplementing the existing State Grant of Rs.10,000. The cost of the Engineering Establishment is however a fluctuating item as it depends upon the pay and allowances of the officers deputed to work and the amount of travelling they have to undertake during the year. In any case Rs.1000/- provided in the estimate under ~~this head~~ The last item seems to be much too low and the minimum pay and allowance of the Assistant Engineer has to be fixed at Rs.300/-. Under this head, the estimate has to be revised as shown in the margin. Making allowance for the cost of the establishment there will be still about Rs.2000/- available for the common benefit of the institutions. I cannot think of serving the temples better than by establishing a few central schools for teaching the meaning and method of temple worship to persons who are either Archaks or willing to qualify for the profession. If the object is approved, I shall elaborate the scheme to be submitted to Government separately for sanction.

8. Though the Government Order under reference applies in general terms to Muzrai Institutions under Government management, I have taken the case of charitable institutions, viz. Government Anna Chattrams and Rest-houses as a question apart for consideration. In their case there is a marked difference in the objects and their surpluses should as far as possible be used for similar purposes. Statements G(i) and G(ii) show the Chattrams and Rest-houses which have at their credit a balance exceeding Rs.1000/-. Where the building requires extensive repairs or reconstruction the surplus has not been touched. In other cases a portion of the amount is proposed for incorporation in a general fund after making sufficient provision for the immediate future requirements. In Government Order No.804-17/M.F.177-14-10 dated 11th October 1916 converting certain Anna Chattrams into Rest-houses it is directed that the surpluses now standing at the credit of the institutions should be spent in improving the accommodation available. The present proposals do not contravene the spirit of the direction as provision has been made for the improvement wherever it is necessary. Besides the proper maintenance of these Rest-houses in future requires that a common fund should be brought into existence from which grants can be made to meet the requirements of individual institutions.

× statement G (i)
× statement G (ii)

9. This still leaves out of consideration another class of charitable institutions endowed by Government at the instance of private parties but the management of which has since come under Government hands. There are two notable instances of the kind, the one relating to Damodar Das Charities and the other to Nowl Krishna Doss Charities. In the former case 4 villages in the Kunigal Taluk have been endowed for the upkeep of certain temples and Chattrams and there is a balance at credit of Rs.25,170/-. In the latter case a few Vrittis in certain Inam Villages of T.Narasipur Taluk endowed to the Charities, have been set apart for the maintenance of a Chattram and as there is no Chattram in existence this has been accumulating for some years past and the balance at credit is Rs.8,566/-. As there are no representatives in the families of the original managers who are likely to claim restoration of management, it appears to me that the available balances after keeping a sufficient reserve may well be invested and utilized for charitable purposes generally.

10. Under these three classes a total sum of Rs. 49,187-13-1 can be made available which on the basis of calculation noted at para 6 above will yield an annual income of Rs.1 903-8-0 This will be a welcome addition to the resources of the Department and will help it materially in coming to the Assistance of deficit institutions in important centres such as Tirupati or Subrahmanya where the usual method of restriction in feeding cannot be made easily applicable. Besides funds will be required to grant first day's Bikshas to Mathadhipatis visiting Bangalore now met from the funds of certain temples which will hereafter be free of such charges. Grants have occasionally to be made to help religious ceremonies undertaken in public interest in times of stress and difficulty. There is at present no particular source from which charges of the kind can be met, apart from the lump sum of Rs.2.100/- set apart in the Order of 11th October 1916 revising the feeding arrangements in certain Anna Chattrams for the express purpose of placing on a footing of greater usefulness certain Chattrams at important centres. Under these circumstances I beg to recommend for the favourable consideration of Government a proposal for the formation of a separate fund for the exclusive use of charitable institutions which may be called General Chattram Fund.
